PROM THE REGULAR CORRESPONDENT OF THE TRIBUNE. ALBANY, April 25 .- In the Assembly this meraing, Mr. Prince called up his resolution, introduced last week, "That the House conclude its business so far as possible by the 26th inst., and then enter upon pro-ceedings of impeachment," and asked unanimous con-sent that it be amended by striking out Friday, April 26, and inserting Wednesday, May 1, and, no objection being made, he moved that it be so amended, and on that he made, he moved that it be so amended, and on that he moved the previous question. The intention was to have moved the adoption of the resolution as amended, and there is no doubt that its adoption could have been easily carried. It is drawn in consonance with all the precedents on this subject, and Mr. Prince and the other members of the Committee are of the opinion that members of the Committee are of the opinion that the pay of members would begin again on the day when the House entered on such proceedings, and possibly date back so as to cover the interval between the expiration of the hundred days and the date of the adpotion of the resolution. As the renewal of their pay would certainly help to keep the House together, the importance of carly action on the resolution will be readily perceived. Mr. Alvord said that if Mr. Prince insisted on the previous question he would vote against the resolution, whereupon Mr. Prince withdrew the previous question, and Mr. Aiverd improved his opportunity to make the ill-founded statement that the pay of members could not begin until the Managers of the trial were appointed and the trial inaugurated before the proper tribunal. He concluded by moving that the consideration of the report of the Standing Committee on the Judiciary in regard to the charges against the New-York Judges be made the special order for Wednesday. May 1st. His motion was carried, but Mr. Prince, be-heving that it would be safer to follow the precedents, had the amended resolution laid on the table by a very decided majority. The imatter will be called we resin decided majority. The imatter will be called up again

The business occupying the morning session of the Senate was the third reading of bills and reports of Committees. About an hour was lost in a wrangle over one of the wretched Albany political bills. George Dawson, Speaker Smith, and others of a certain school of local politicians here now propose to take away from Mayer Thatcher (Dem.) the appointing power, and bestew it upon the Republican Board of Aldermen. A great many Republicans in both Heuses are already great many Republicans in both Houses are already much disgusted with the schemes of these Eccaing Jour-nal politicians to usurp, through the Legislature, powers which the people have not concented to give them. Among the bills passed was Mr. Judd's Assembly bill, for the encouragement of intelligence among those serving on juries. The following is the full text of the bill, which now goes to the Governor:

bill, which now goes to the Governor:

Section 1. The previous formation or expression of an opinion of impression in reference to the circumstances upon which any criminal action at law is based, or in reference to the guilt or innecence of the prisoner, or a present opinion or impression thereto, shall not be a sufficient ground of challenge for principal cause to any person who is otherwise legally qualitied to serve as a jurior upon the trial of such action; provided the person proposed as a jurior who may have formed or expressed, or has such opinion or impression as aforesaid, shall declare, on oath, that he verily believes that he can render an impartial verdict according to the evidence submitted to the jury on such trial, and that such previously formed opinion or impression will not bias or induced his verdict.

Sic. 2. The people and the accused, in all capital cases, thail each be entitled to be peremptory challenges.
The Senate Committee on Public Printing reported "for the consideration of the Senate" the concarrent resolution directing the clerks of the Senate and Assembly to procure 100 copies of the annual known as the Red Book for each member of the Legislature, and 25 Red Book for each member of the Legislature, and 2s copies for each officer and reporter. On motion of Mr. D. F. Wood, the consideration of the resolution was indefinitely postponed, by a vote of 27 to 1. This means that no distribution of Red Books is to be made this year at the expense of the State, whereby upward of 20,000 will be saved to the tax-payers.

The Senate spent nearly the whole of this evening's session in the consideration of the Local Prohibition bill.

The prospect for the passage of this bill is not favorable.

An amendment was carried, to night, excluding from its An amendment was carried, to-night, excluding from its provisions, malt liquors and cider. Some of the professed friends of the bill show a disposition to talk it to death. A motion having been carried to report progress on the bill, and ask leave to sit again, and the Committee of the Whole having been dissolved. Mr. Chatheld moved that the Senate disagree with the action of the Committee, and order the bill engrossed for a third reading. This motion, though supported by some of the encinies of the bill, was defeated by a vote of 10 to 15. The Senate spent another hour over the bill to allow a railroad company to lay tracks on the towpath of the Chemano Extension Canal, which is one of those canals which have cost the State $100 for every deliar received in toils. This bill was also left undisposed of, after an exciting slarmish between the respective Chairmen of the Railroad and Canal Committees.

The Senate Committee on Railroads have presented a ong report in writing against the Assembly bill restrict ing the passenger fares of the New-York and New-Haver Railroad in Westchester County to two cents a mile. The report contains an able summary of the points involved and shows that the passengers transported to and from stations in Westchester, including commuters, are now carried for but a small fraction over two cents a mile, and that, owing to the tax paid the Harlem Railroad and and that, owing to the tax past in New-York City, the reterpts from this portion of the Company's business hardly exceed the expenses. On motion of Mr. Bobertson, the report of the Ratiroad Committee was disagreed with and both ordered to be printed and referred to the Committee of the Whole. It would be very strange if the Senste, after refusing to take into scrious consideration Mr. Johnson's bill to regulate railroad freights by prohibiting railroads from charcing more for carrying merchandise over a part of the line than over the whole of it, should now pass a bill which is certainly as open to objections as Mr. Johnson's.

The Senate returned the bill to the Assembly, for a double session of the Court of General Sessions in New-double session of the Court of General Sessions in New-York, with amendments that it shall be lawful, when in the discretion of the Recorder or City Judge, it shall be the discretion of the Recorder or City Judge, it shall be necessary, for the Recorder or City Judge to hold a double session of said court; the trial of all causes triable therein; and shall direct the drawing of an additional number of petit jurors for said court, not exceeding double the number now authorized. The resolution of the Board of Supervisors of 1869, making the salaries of these judges equal to that of the Common Picas and Superior Court Judges is confirmed ($15,000 a Year), and the payments made and now due thereunder are declared valid.

The bill to establish a riflerence on the plan of the

The till to establish a rifle-range on the plan of the English Wimbledon failed to pass, lacking just two votes to make the required two-thirds. Mr. Griffin, Republican of Delaware, voted against it. On motion of Mr. Foley the vote by which it was lost was reconsidered, and the motion laid on the table. It will probably be called up again when a full House is present. The bill to incorporate the Staten Island and New-Jersey Ferry Company was passed. The bill to author-ize the New-York and Harlem Railroad Company to extend their tracks for the use of their small cars only was lost, Mr. Griffin voting against it with the Democrats Mr. Husted's motion to reconsider the vote, and that the motion lie on the table was carried. The bill incorpo-rating the Mechanics' and Traders' Exchange of Brook-lyn was passed.

A communication was received from the Governor stating that in compliance with joint resolution he had applied to the President, and the President had appointed the Chief Engineer of the Army, the Superin' tendent of the Coast Survey, and Lieut.-Col. Newtons Corps of Engineers, as a Board of officers to examine add revise the exterior lines of New-York harbor, on the Brooklyn side. An appropriation being called for the matter was referred to the Committee of Ways and

At the opening of the Assembly, this evening, Mr. Jarobs (Dem., Kings) called attention to the fact that the bill to provide for the local government of the City and County of New-York had passed the Assembly, this morning, and been sent to the Senate. He characterized the bill as extraordinary, and attacked the action of the House, and insinuated that the officers had acted with the bill as extraordinary, and attacked the action of the House, and insinuated that the officers had acted with unseemly and suspicious haste in sending the bill to the Senate. He was called to order by the Speaker, who said that the bill had been taken up by unanimous consent, and passed in response to a communication from Controller Green urging its passage, to avoid serious embarrassment in the affairs of the city, and had been sent to the Senate in the usual course. The Speaker's explanation was sufficient, but Mr. Jacobe's tirade was doubly ridiculous in view of the fact that he himself voted for the bill this morning. The House, however, promptly responded to Mr. Jacobe's motion that the vote be reconsidered, and the Senate be requested to return the bill. It was not, however, returned up to the hour of adjournment. When it comes up for reconsideration it is probable that it will be amended in some important particulars. A number of bills were passed to night. Almong others one relating to the Marine Court of New-York, which is intended to simplify the jurisdiction and practice of that Court.

The Governor gave a hearing to-day to the friends and foes of the New-York Charter. Ex-Gov. Salomon, Simon Sterne, Prof. Theodore W. Dwight, and the Hon, John Wheeler appeared in support of it, and Henry W. Clinton Wheeler appeared in support of it, and Henry W. Clinton in opposition. Their arguments were directed exclusively to the question of the constitutionality of the provision providing for committee voting. The hearing was of an informal nature, being more of a free conversation than anything else. Prof. Dwight, at the conclusion of his remarks, suggested to the Governor that he send a message to the Legislature proposing an amendment to the Charter providing that the cumulative vote be kept separate and distinct and counted by itself, so that in case the cumulative principle was pronounced unconstitutional by the Court of Appeals, no damage could result because of the vote taken. Mr. Chinton insisted that the principle was unconstitutional and challenged the defenders of the principle to show where in the Constitution has the found captures permission to vote in the constitution that the principle was unconstitutional to the the man the principle was proposed to the constitution to the constitution of the constitution that the constitution is the constitution of the constitution to the constitution that the constitution is the constitution to the constitution that the constitution is the constitution to the constitution that the constitution is the constitution to the constitution that the constitution is the cons ner proposed. The arguments of Messrs, Salomon and Sterne were, in effect, the same as that made by them before the Legislative Committee.

FINE ARTS AND THE DRAMA.

FINE ARTS.

MR. LOUIS LANG'S SALE. There will doubtless be a great gathering of the lovers of art in this city at the Clinton Hall Sale Rooms to-night to witness the sale of Mr. Louis Lang's pictures. This popular artist and amiable gentleman contemplates an extensive residence in Europe, and sells to night the artistic accumulation of many years. Most of the pictures are of the small cabinet size, so convenient for private houses and libraries, but the collection embraces also a number of large and important works such as the "Father's Sword" and "Jephtha's Daughter," either of which would be an ornament to any gallery. The artist's large collection of studio property is to be sold to-morrow, together with a number of valuable and rare books. No one knows Mr. Lang but to esteem him, and if the bidding to-night is proportioned to the per-sonal regard in which he is held, the result will be a substantial success.

THE DRAMA.

BOOTH'S THEATER-THE FOOL'S REVENGE. Mr. Booth's appearance in the character of Bertuccio is always an incident of importance-his personation of that character being one of the best works of stage art, whether considered as to magnetic spirit or as to symmetry of artistic form, now within the record of public enjoyment. He appeared in the part, last night, and was seen with deep interest and frequent applause by a considerable assemblage—although the house was not as full as it should have been, in honor of a performance of such sterling worth. He acted in a vigorous and brilliant manner, and the sardonic humor and afflicting pathes of the portrayal wrought their customary thrilling effect upon the auditory. So short a time has passed since "The Fooi's Revenge" was done at this theater and discovered the statement of the statem theater and discussed in these columns, that the theme may properly be assumed to dwell freshly in the public recollection. While, however, we need not restate the features of Mr. Booth's excellent and wholly extraordinary performance, it will not be amiss to remind play-goers that so fine an exemplification of the art of acting -the talent and skill for assuming foreign identities and illustrating great dramatic points of contact in human experience-is very seldom afforded on the stage. Mr. Booth was called out at the end of acts second and third. "The Fool's Revenge," given with the same cast as on recent occasions, is to be acted till the end of the week. "The Iron Chest" will be given for the matinee. Next week Mr. Booth will be seen, on two evenings, as Sir Edward Morlimer and Petruchio. On Wednesday, " Richard III.," long in preparation, will be brought out, and Mr. Booth will appear as Gloster.

DRAMATIC NOTES. The Oates Troupe will give comic Opera and Burlesque at Niblo's, in June. Miss Charlotte Thompson is now acting at the N. O. Varieties, as Fanny Tan Eyek in "Divorce."

Mr. Wallack, it should be remembered, gives Saturday Matinée of "London Assurance," at his

The St. Felix Ballet Troupe, of children, fermerly at Niblo's, in "The Black Crook," will soon appear at the Grand Opera House, in "Lallah Rookh." Mr. Edwin Adams will act at Booth's Theater, immediately on the close of Mr. Booth's present engagement, appearing in the character of Enoch Arden—in the drama that Mine. de Marguerites based on Tennyson's human and touching poem.

The Hall lately occupied by the San Francisco Minstrels will be occupied, it is said, as a Variety Theater, next season. As almost all the theaters in town are now in the variety business, it does seem as if New-York had enough—and rather more than enough—of this sort of entertainment.

Miss Janauschek was at the St. Charles Theater, New Orleans, last week. She acted Rortense and Lady Dedlock, in "Chesney Wold"—the "Bleak House" drama—and it is stated by a local paper, apparently as a fact of consequence, that she wore jewels valued at $130,000. Last Sunday night Janauschek played Lady Wacheth

ANOTHER DEATH IN THE BRIDGE CAISSON. Patrick McKay, age 42, of No. 273 High-st., Brooklyn, a laborer, who has been employed for several weeks in the caisson of the East River Bridge, on coming to the surface on Wednesday afternoon, fell, and was taken in an insensible condition to the Park Hospital, where he died early yesterday. It was thought at first that death had resulted from asphyxia, induced by the excessive pressure of the air in the bottom of the casson, but a post mortem examination by Deputy Coroner Marsh showed that it was due to Bright's disease of the

Dr. Andrew H. Smith, the Eridge Company's physician says that men in the cals-on work under an atmospheric pressure of 32 pounds to the square inch, and that over 100,000 cubic feet of pure air an hour is supplied by the pumps, a quantity sufficient to change the air completely in the caisson. A careful analysis shows the amount of carbonic acid in the atmosphere to be less amount of carbonic acid in the atmosphere to be less than one-third of one per cent. The effect of the pressure is to produce pain in the limbs, often very severe, but seldom of long duration. There have been four cases of partial paralysis, and of 250 men employed three have died, one from cerebro spinal meningitis, another on Monday from congestion of the lungs, and the third yesterday from Bright's disease of the kidneys. The men have been working only five bours a day, in two equal watches, with an interval of 2½ hours. The time will be reduced to 4½ hours, and a further reduction will take place whenever it shall be necessary.

The bed rock under the New-York calsson of the East River Bridge was uncovered yesterday afternoon. It is expected that the underground work for this caisson will be completed by June 1.

ATTEMPTED MURDER.

Mary Banks, colored, of No. 87 Thompson-st. ceived a letter from Sarah Garnet, colored, on Wednesday, asking her to call in the evening at the writer's house, No. 8 Downing st. As they were members of the Abyssinian Baptist Church, the recipient thought that her correspondent wished to talk with her about religious charity, and was prompt, therefore, in fulfill-ing the engagement. The hostess locked the door of her room as soon as the guest entered, and, flercely accusing her of having told lies, assaulted her, and injured her so seriously that Coroner Young deemed it wise, yesterday, to take her ante-mortem statement.

She said: When I told her I had not told lies, she put she said: When I told her I had not told lies, she put her fist in my face and shoved me against the wall; I struggled with her and she threw me down; she put her hands around my throat, and tried to choke me; she put her knees against my cheeks, and I cried out, "Murder, you will kill me:" somebody came to the door; when I got up I said, "I never will get over this; you have killed me;" she said that I ought to be killed, and all people like me; then she pushed me out of the room and tried to throw me down stairs.

Sarah Garnet was arrested yesterday, and will be held in the Eighth Precinct Station-house to await the result of Mary Banks's injuries.

THE NEW WHITE STAR STEAMSHIP ARDIATIC By the adoption of the many modern inventions for comfort, safety, and luxury, the trip across the Atlantic has been changed from a dreaded fortnight of discomfort and misery to a delightful ten days' ex-cursion. This fact was made unusually apparent yescursion. This fact was made unusually apparent yesterday to the visitors who inspected the new steamer Adriatic of the White Star Line, now for the first time lying at the Company's wharf in Jersey City. The Adriatic is an iron screw steamer of 4,260 tuns, 450 feet in length, 4i feet beam, and 32 feet deep. She has four iron masts, fully rigged for carrying sail, and when the wind is favorable can shorteniher course by spreading an acre of canvas to the breeze. In the arrangement of saloons and staterooms, everything is provided that can add to the comfort and pleasure of her passengers, even to the furnishing of each room with an electric signal communicating with the purser's office. During her stay in port she has been visited and admired by hundreds, and her passenger accommodations have already been engaged for several months in advance. Capt, Digby Murray, Commodere of the line and an old and experienced navigator, is in command, and manifests a just pride in his noble craft. She sails for Liverpool to morrow.

ATTEMPTED MURDER AND SUICIDE.

On Wednesday evening Frederick Kent attempted to shoot Henry Koch, at the latter's residence in Dubois-st., West Hoboken, N. J., and afterward shot himself twice in the breast, inflicting injuries from which he cannot recover. Koch is a conductor on the North Hudson County Railroad Line, and Kent, who was formerly a conductor on the same line, boards with him. Criminal intimacy had existed between Kent and his landlord's wife, and when the husband charged them with it, on Saturday, Kent drew knife and attempted to stab him. The husband secured a warrant and had Kent arrested; but, failing to appear against him, he was dicharged. On Wednesday evening, as he was passing through the hallway, he found Kent larking there. The latter immediately drew a revolver and fired, but missed Koch, who escaped and returned to the house with an officer. On entering, Kent was found lying in the hallway insensible, having shot himself. He was earned for, and was still hving at 8 o'clock last evening.

Those who are disposed to class the GETTYSBURG KATALYSINE WATER with the quack medicines and the new mineral spring water of the day, may easily disabuse their minds of this impression by reference to the United States Dispensatory, the highest authority known to druggists or physicians. By turning to page 139 of the thirteenth revised edition of this work, they will perceive that the Gettysburg Spring of some eight years of age, is classed with the European Viehy and Pyrmont, as many hundred years old; in other words, is assigned the foremost rank among the great aqueous medicines of the world. Dr. Bell, author of a standard medical work on Mineral Springs, states that the "Gettysburg Water has produced signally curative and restorative effects upon different forms: Dyspepsia, Sickness of the Stomach, Heartburn, Waterbrash, Acute Neuralgie Pains, Loss of Appetite, Chronic Diarrhea, Torpid Liver, Gout, Chronic Rheumatism, Nodistes of the Joints, Approaching and Actual Paralysis, Diabetes, General Debility, Hematuria, Abdominal Dropsy, Cholera Infantum, Genito Urinary Disorders, Kidney Diseases, &c., &c. The New-York Medical Record states that the Gettysburg Water is a regulator of all the secretions and excretions. The Philadelphia Medical and Surgical Reporter, another leading medical journal, states that it is tions.
